

Cupboard

A quiet tracker for the work of feeding people

SOFTWARE FOR SMALL FEEDING MINISTRIES • BETA OPENS LATE 2026

Cupboard is software for small feeding ministries who want a record of what they do without buying a Salesforce contract or learning a database. It works offline, syncs when it can, handles TEFAP if you need it, and disappears when you don't.

Pantries, soup kitchens, backpack programs — kept on any laptop or tablet, optimized for the Chromebook most pantries already own.

What it is

Offline first. Runs on any laptop or tablet, even with the wifi out. Data lives on the device and syncs back to the cloud when the connection returns.

Built for shared devices. One device, many volunteers. Sign in once at setup; a simple between-shifts password locks the screen.

TEFAP-ready. An optional compliance mode adds signature capture, FPL eligibility, annual recertification, and the monthly USDA report.

Who it's for

- Food pantries operating one to three days a week
- Soup kitchens and prepared-meal programs
- Backpack programs distributing to schools
- Mobile pantries and rural distributions
- Operations between 50 and 5,000 households
- Programs that share devices across volunteers
- Ministries reporting to TEFAP or a regional food bank
- Small standalone pantries with no compliance load

Cupboard began as the system for one pantry in Austin, Texas, kept on a single Chromebook, with no IT staff and no budget. It is a record of what a small ministry actually needs — not what enterprise software thinks it should.
